

CHARLES L. PETERSON

The Daily News

* A special printed remarque on each print completes the story and provides a unique finishing touch for this wonderful image.

ANYTOWN, USA — In the days when newspapers were our chief (sometimes only) source of information, it was serious business being a paperboy. Customers often impatiently waited at their doors to receive their paper and critique my delivery. Careful folding and packing, accurate throwing, and a little luck with the neighborhood dogs were all essential for timely delivery of the daily news.
